Current assistant coach Jen Adams won the 2001 Tewaaraton Award, as the top women's lacrosse player, as well as the Honda Award for the second straight year. In 2001, she also set the NCAA records for career points (445) and career assists (174).

Nobody scores as often as Jen Adams. Maryland's quiet Aussie midfielder

"Jen has so many moves and shots, you can't just do one thing to stop her," says Gait.

Maryland has had the glory of three players being named the ACC's Female Athlete of the Year — for all sports. Adams won the award twice in 2000 and 2001 along with Kelly Amonte (1996) and Sarah Forbes (1997).

Terps At The WORLD CUP

The United States National Team captured the 2001 World Cup with a roster featuring eight former Terps.

The 2001 International Federation of Women's Lacrosse Associations' World Cup was played in High Wycombe, England, but that didn't stop the event from having a distinctive Maryland stamp.

At the championships, which were won by the United States, a total of 14 former and current Terrapin lacrosse players represented their respective countries. The U.S. team featured eight Terps among its 16 players including Kelly Amonte-Hiller (1996), Erin Brown (1990), Quinn Carney (2001), Randall Flynn (1997), Christie Jenkins (2000), Kristin Sommar (2000), Michele Uhlfelder (1991) and Jess Wilk (1990). In addition, five members of the Australian national team can claim they played at Maryland. Among them were former players Jen Adams (2001), Trish Adams, Sarah Forbes (1997), Courtney Hobbs (2002) and Sascha Newmarch (1998). Finally, Laura Warren, who joined the Terps last season, was a starting attacker for the Welsh team.

As mentioned previously, the title was taken home by the Americans, but it took a come-from-behind effort to beat the Aussies, 14-8, in the championship game. The 2-0 deficit that the U.S.A. dug itself out of was the only time that it trailed in the tourney.

If excellence is a measure of accomplishment, her eight titles at Maryland speak volumes.

If excellence is a measure of character, the lives she touches and the student-athletes she molds represent an immeasurable impact on the people around her.

If excellence is a way to describe those who are admired by their athletes, revered by their peers, and respected by their community, then Maryland head women's lacrosse coach Cindy Timchal celebrates nothing less than 13 years of excellence at the University of Maryland.

When Timchal arrived in College Park, the Maryland women's lacrosse program stood at a 201-69-3 (a .736 winning percentage) all-time. Under Timchal's guidance, the Terps have taken what was already a strong program and elevated it to one that has since notched an astounding record of 221-26 (.895), turning Maryland into the winningest Division I women's lacrosse team ever. The Terps are now 422-95-3 (.814) in 30 years of lacrosse.

Beyond the numbers, though, Timchal has done her part to revolutionize the sport of women's lacrosse. In recent years, Timchal has brought some of the most influential names in lacrosse through College Park, including former assistant Gary Gait, and more recently, former Terp stars Cathy Nelson and Jen Adams. Nine years ago, she added another dimension to the learning process at Maryland as she brought aboard the wisdom of California-based spiritual advisor and author Dr. Jerry Lynch to enrich the minds of her student-athletes. That decision has complemented the already high level of physical training it takes to excel at the Division I level and is a trend that has caught on throughout the world of sports.

In only two seasons since her arrival has Timchal lost more than three games in any one season, and included in the mix are the spectacular undefeated seasons of 1995 (17-0), 1996 (19-0), 1999 (21-0) and 2001 (23-0). She has taken her Terrapin teams to the NCAA finals in 11 of the past 14 years, at one point winning an unprecedented seven-straight national titles.

In winning their seventh-straight national title under Timchal's watch in 2001, the Terps posted what currently stands as the third-longest championship streak in NCAA history. In addition, it puts Timchal in the company of coaching legends like UCLA's John Wooden who won seven straight titles with the UCLA men's basketball program from 1967-73.

While the 2001 season marked the start of her second decade of coaching at Maryland, Timchal's coaching career got its start at Northwestern in 1982. During her nine-year tenure with the Wildcats, she compiled a 76-40 record (.655) and took her team to five NCAA appearances. While at Northwestern, Timchal made it as far as the quarterfinals, earning appearances in the NCAA Tournament in 1984, '86, '87 and '88. In 1991, she came to the College Park to continue the already long-standing tradition of Terrapin lacrosse.

Prior to '91, the Terrapins' last title had come in 1986 under head coach Sue Tyler, but the Maryland dynasty began to re-emerge almost immediately under Timchal's guidance. Timchal's first year saw a 14-3 record and a trip to the NCAA finals. By 1992, the lacrosse world knew something big was about to happen at Maryland. Despite being at a place with a rich history in both men's and women's lacrosse, few could have predicted that a dynasty so powerful was on the horizon. With a 14-1 record, the Terrapins took the 1992 national title — just the third time in Maryland school history.

The 1993 season would bring a heartbreaking 7-6 loss to the Princeton Tigers in the NCAA semifinals. The following year led to further frustration with the Tigers, as a 10-7 decision left the Terrapins just one win away from hoisting the trophy again. In 1995, however, Timchal and the Terps would turn the tables on the competition.

After the three-goal loss to Princeton in 1994, the Terps would go on to win 50 straight games. Timchal led the 1995 squad to a 17-0 run ending in a 13-5 defeat of Princeton for the NCAA title. Maryland would go undefeated again in 1996, finishing with a 19-0 record and a 10-5 decision over ACC rival Virginia to take home the hardware.

The 1997 season would begin with Timchal's squad wearing the label of back-to-back NCAA champions. A 21-1 record would see the Terps begin '98 as the three-time defending national champions, and come one goal short of putting together their third consecutive undefeated season.

The dynasty continued throughout the 1998 season despite an 0-2 start following losses to Duke and North Carolina. That season finished the same way as the previous three, however, with Timchal's Terrapins being crowned the NCAA champions once again, this time behind an 11-5 win over Virginia.

In 1999, the Terrapins were no less than the personification of a finely-tuned program from top to bottom. Timchal led Maryland to a 21-0 season and team's fifth-straight title. The 2000 season saw Maryland stumble momentarily out of the gate with an overtime loss at North Carolina, but the "machine" could not be stopped as the Terps went on to win their final 20 en route to their sixth title in a row.

The 2001 season may have been Timchal's finest of all her seasons as a head coach. The Terrapins played one of — if not the — toughest schedule in women's lacrosse and were every team's target as the one to beat. Despite the attention, the Terps again ran through the schedule without a blemish and ultimately beat Georgetown in a gut-wrenching title game to finish 23-0. The 23 wins are most ever by a team in a single season.

Now looking to start a new streak of championships, Timchal will enter 2004 with some of the most impressive coaching numbers already under her belt. Her .818 career winning percentage places her fifth on the list of all-time women's lacrosse coaches. She enters this season just three wins shy of 300 for her career and is the all-time winningest coach in women's lacrosse history.

Individually, her athletes have earned countless accolades and awards. Last season, Maryland had three first team All-Americans making it 19 in the last six years, as well as Midfielder of the Year Kelly Coppedge and Goalkeeper of the Year Alexis Venechanos. Current assistant Jen Adams set the all-time collegiate scoring mark while leading the NCAA in that category. Adams also became the first-ever winner of the Tewaaraton Trophy, which recognizes the top collegiate men's and women's player in the country. In 1996, Kelly Amonte became the Terps' first four-time All-American, including first-team honors in 1995 and 1996.

A total of 66 Terrapins have earned All-American recognition under Timchal including Amonte's four, (1993-96), and three each for Betsy Elder (1992-94), Sarah Forbes (1995-97), Laura Harmon (1993-95), Sascha Newmarch (1996-98) and Adams (1999-2001). Adams' third-consecutive selection as Player of the Year in 2000 marked the 10th time one of Timchal's players have earned National Player of the Year honors, including Amonte, who was named the 1996 NCAA Division I Most Valuable Player. Nationally, 15 of Timchal's players have played on the U.S. Developmental team and eight were members of the most recent championship World Cup team, a total that made up half of the 2001 team's roster.

Timchal not only produces champions on the field, but also in the classroom. Last season, Julie Shank was named Scholar Athlete of the Year. Adams was named GTE/CoSida Academic All-American of the Year (2000). In 1998, Newmarch earned GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-American. Betsy Elder was a two-time Academic All-American in 1993-94, while Theresa Ingram and Jamie Brodsky earned honors in 1994 and 1996, respectively.

As impressive as the honors under Timchal are, the most telling of all her accomplishments as a coach may be what has become of some of her former players. Timchal has created somewhat of a legacy of creating coaches indirectly through her coaching. Among the former players who have gone on to coach at the collegiate level are: Kelly Amonte-Hiller (1996 grad; current head coach at Northwestern), Missy Holmes (1997 grad; current Towson head coach), Randall Goldsborough-Flynn (1996 grad; current head coach at Bucknell), Theresa Ingram (1994 grad; current coach at Brown), Kerstin Kimel (1993 grad; current head coach at Duke), Courtney Martinez-Conner (2001 grad; current Mount Saint Mary's head coach), Karen McCrate (1996 grad; coach of 2001 NCAA D-II Champion C.W. Post), Liz Monte (1996 grad; coach of Rochester), Cathy Nelson (1998 grad; current Denver head coach), and Michelle Uhlfelder (1991 grad; current Stanford head coach). Timchal also mentored Dartmouth head coach Amy Patton at Unionville (Pa.) High School and has several former players serving as assistants at other schools including Quinn Carney (Stanford), Cara Gorman (Utica), Meg McNamara (Stony Brook), Alex Kahoe (Delaware) and Alexis Venechanos (Northwestern).

Timchal attended West Chester (Pa.) University where she lettered in lacrosse, tennis and track & field. Following her graduation, she became an assistant coach at Unionville (Pa.) High School where she coached field hockey, lacrosse and basketball. In 1979, she joined the collegiate ranks, becoming an assistant lacrosse and field hockey coach at the University of Pennsylvania.

The Terps' Coaching Influence

The University of Maryland has a long-reaching impact on the sport of women's lacrosse, primarily because of the significant number of players the program has sent into the coaching ranks. Nearly 20 former Terrapins are now on the sidelines as college coaches. From the West Coast, where Michele Ulhfelder (Maryland,'91) leads Stanford, to the Midwest where Kelly Amonte-Hiller (Maryland, '96) heads Northwestern, to the East Coast where Missy Holmes (Maryland, 97) was recently appointed as head coach at Towson, the Terps continue to make their mark in the sport.

2nd Year at Maryland

Jen Adams, arguably the most recognizable name in women's lacrosse, begins her second season as an assistant coach for the Terps. A player at Maryland from 1998-2001, the three-time All-American and NCAA career leader in points knows the storied Terrapin program as well as anyone.

Adams joined the Maryland staff after one of the most recognizable names in men's lacrosse – Gary Gait – moved on to the professional ranks as a player and coach. The Terps didn't miss a beat as Adams continued the star power on the Maryland coaching staff. She is in her second season with the Terps in a full-time coaching capacity after spending a season in College Park as an undergraduate assistant following her playing days.

From the standpoint of accolades, Adams' playing career is unmatched. A three-time All-American and three-time national player of the year, Adams is collegiate women's lacrosse's all-time leading points scorer. In her four years at Maryland, she posted 445 points, breaking a record that had been held for over 15 years. In addition, she holds the following records – first in all-time assists (178), fourth in all-time goals (267), first and second in single-season points (148 in 2001; 136 in 2000) and second and third in single-season assists (60 in 2001; 55 in 2000).

Among the awards Adams received at Maryland were two Honda Awards, recognizing the top player in collegiate women's lacrosse, and the inaugural Tewaaraton Trophy, which is given to the top men's and women's player in collegiate lacrosse.

Adams has held several posts while both playing and coaching at Maryland. Since arriving in College Park, she has served as a counselor at the All-American lacrosse camps. The last two years, she has served as Camp Director and a technical representative for STX, a company which she has teamed with to, among other things, design and develop new lacrosse equipment for women. In addition, she has served as the head coach of the Maryland Stars club lacrosse team in Baltimore.

Lauri Kenis

Assistant Coach
Virginia '03
1st Year at Maryland

Former Virginia standout Lauri Kenis begins her first season on the other side of one of the sport's most intense rivalries as an assistant coach for Maryland. Kenis joins the staff after long-time assistant Cathy Nelson-Reese was named the head coach at Denver.

"We are really excited that Lauri is a part of the program," head coach Cindy Timchal says of Kenis. "She has tremendous playing and coaching experience and will be a valuable asset for our team."

"This is a wonderful opportunity for me," Kenis said. "I have always played against this great program, and now it is great to be on this side of it."

Kenis, a two-time consensus first team All-American, was a four-year letter winner on the Virginia lacrosse team and helped the Cavaliers advance twice to the NCAA finals. She was a two-time all-conference selection in her career as she helped Virginia advance to two ACC finals during her tenure in Charlottesville. Kenis also earned NCAA and ACC All-Tournament honors.

A member of the USA Elite team, Kenis ranks second all-time at Virginia in caused turnovers and started every game of her final two seasons at UVa. An honorable mention national player of the week (by insidelacrosse.com), Kenis is a two-time member of the Virginia All-State team and ranked second on Virginia's team in ground balls and caused turnovers in both her junior and senior seasons.

A native of Havertown, Pa., Kenis has coached at numerous lacrosse camps around the nation and is a frequent clinician at various events. She completed her undergraduate degree in psychology and finished her master's degree in education in 2003.

Kenis has come over from Virginia, where she battled the Terps last spring in the NCAA Semifinals.

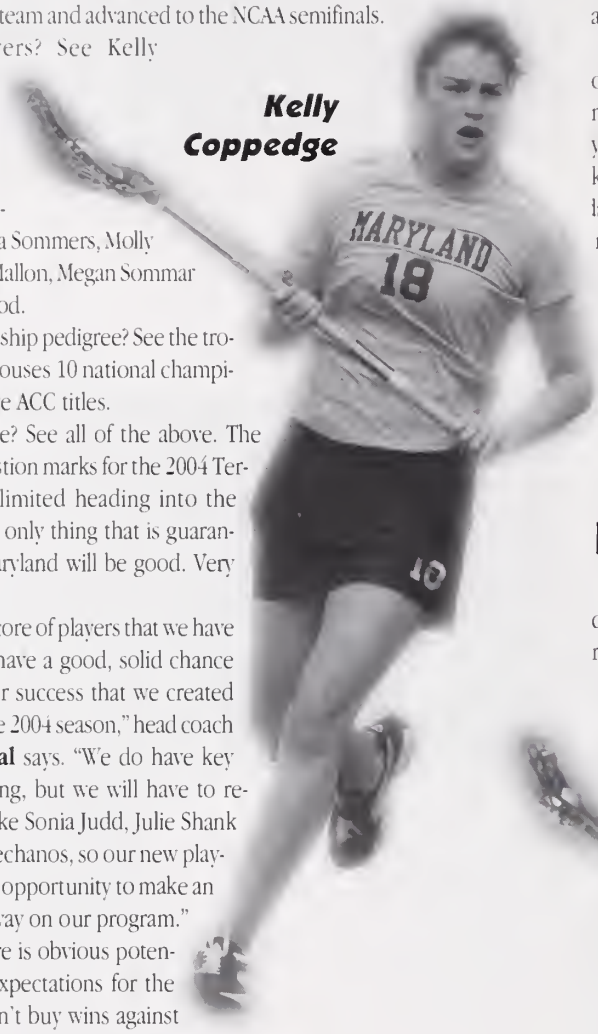
2004 Season Outlook

Veteran Terrapin Squad Aims For 11th National Title

Experience? See that Maryland returns eight starters from last year's ACC championship team and advanced to the NCAA semifinals.

Star players? See Kelly Coppedge and Acacia Walker.



Kelly Coppedge

Stingy, experienced defense? See Greta Sommers, Molly Lambert, Meg Mallon, Megan Sommar and Tess McLeod.

Championship pedigree? See the trophy case that houses 10 national championships and five ACC titles.

Confidence? See all of the above. The amount of question marks for the 2004 Terrapin team is limited heading into the spring, but the only thing that is guaranteed is that Maryland will be good. Very good. Again.

"With the core of players that we have returning, we have a good, solid chance to continue our success that we created last year into the 2004 season," head coach Cindy Timchal says. "We do have key players returning, but we will have to replace players like Sonia Judd, Julie Shank and Alexis Venechanos, so our new players will have an opportunity to make an impact right away on our program."

While there is obvious potential and high expectations for the Terps, they don't buy wins against one of the toughest schedules in the country. Maryland approaches each season with the mission to prove how good they can be, and this year is no exception.

"With us not winning a national title the past few years, it just makes us hungrier to go out and show how good we can be, and we know that every school is shooting for the opportunity to win a national title," Timchal says. "We're well-focused, well-prepared and hungry to play well in the spring.

"We always think that there is one magical thing that will make the big difference, but we know that doing all the little things will make the big difference. All we can do is control our effort and intensity and good things will happen."

Attack

A season ago, the attack was talented but inexperienced. With the successful 2003 campaign under their belt, this unit is more accustomed to a full season of high-level of competition and is expected to find the back of the net with regularity for the Terps in 2004.

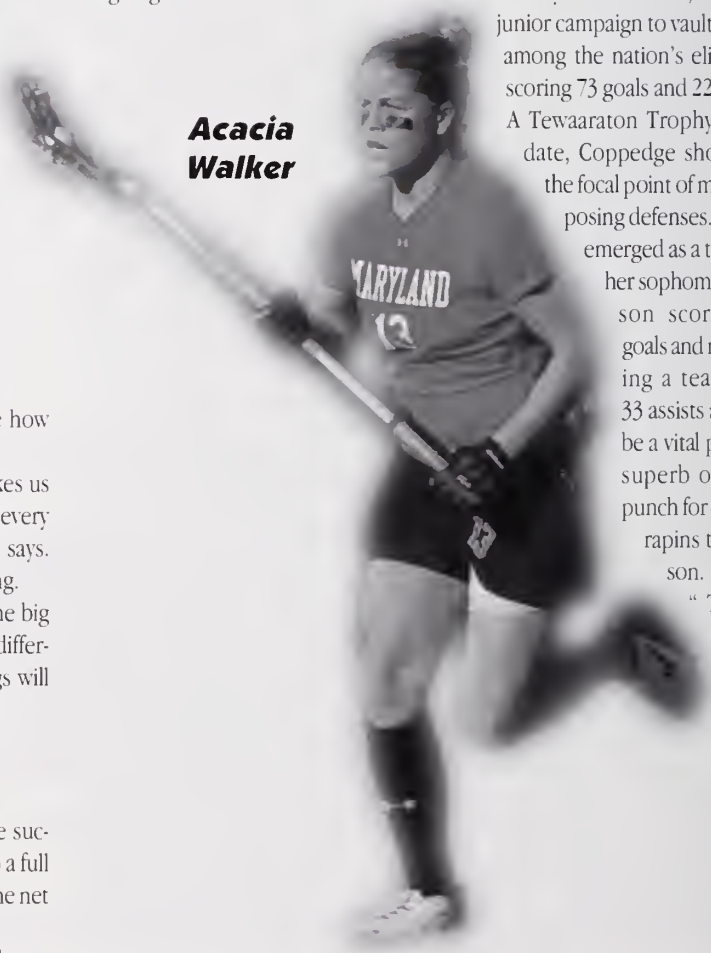
"Playing a whole season gives you a lot of intangibles: having the players know what to expect when you step out on the field, what the challenges are and what they need to do," Timchal says.

Delia Cox, one of the conference's top freshmen a season ago, was third on the team last season with 36 goals. Cox's speed up front and ability to finish make her one of the top targets for Maryland. Junior Annie Collins is a two-year starter who gives the Terps a steady, skilled and consistent player who knows how to find the ball and score. Junior Jess Dorney emerged as a regular attacker as a sophomore and will look to provide the Terrapins with even more production than her 28-goal, five-assist season in 2003. Freshmen Krista Pellizzi and Mollie Reese, along with sophomores Brooke Richards and Jaimee Motley will look to get into the mix and provide Maryland with depth. The Terps' superior mix of talent and experience should make them difficult to stop.

"We like to push the tempo and we have a lot of speed, and all of our attacking players are able to do that in addition to being good finishers and handle pressure well," Timchal adds.

Midfield

In the midfield for the Terps is one of the most dynamic and explosive duos in the game in Kelly Coppedge and Acacia Walker. Coppedge, the reigning IWLCA Midfielder of the Year and ACC Player of the Year, used her junior campaign to vault herself among the nation's elite after scoring 73 goals and 22 assists. A Tewaaraton Trophy candidate, Coppedge should be the focal point of many opposing defenses. Walker emerged as a threat in her sophomore season scoring 29 goals and registering a team-high 33 assists and will be a vital part of a superb one-two punch for the Terrapins this season.



Acacia Walker

have the whole package that makes them really tough to stop offensively," Timchal says of Coppedge and Walker. "Their stick skills allow them to be good finishers and they have good field vision and awareness on the field."

Despite their ability, Timchal knows the two can't shoulder the entire load for Maryland and is confident that everyone will be able to fill the void should opposing defenses be able to take them out of the flow of the game.

"We gear our offense not expecting just one player to do well, but to be balanced so that if someone is double-teamed the other players have the green light to step in the open spot and be the finishers."

Joining Coppedge and Walker in the midfield could be veteran Laura Warren, a versatile player who could see action at other positions in addition to playing in the midfield, or freshman Katie Doolittle. Others vying for time will be Motley and junior Meredith O'Brien in addition to several other younger players who could make their way into the rotation.

Defense

The defense is by far the most seasoned unit on the 2004 Terrapin squad. Between Greta Sommers, Molly Lambert, Meg Mallon, Megan Sommar and Tess McLeod, the Terps have a combined 82 starts and over 180 games of experience.

"Having that experience in front of the cage will help us to be a strong team and is very critical to this season's success," Timchal says.

Sommers, the 2003 womenslacrosse.com Unsung Player of the Year, will be one of the leaders of the unit often marking the other team's top player. Sommers is touted as one of the toughest defenders in the country and is known for her ability to work hard for 60 minutes. Her increased stick skills could also allow her to see time on offense. Lambert, one of the team's co-captains along with Coppedge, will provide leadership both on and off the field for the Terps. Mallon, Sommar and McLeod have been Terp regulars throughout their careers and will have an opportunity to start, but all of them will certainly see extensive action again in 2004.

A trademark of this team will be its versatility. While many players are penciled in at certain positions, virtually all of the players on the roster have the skill level to play anywhere on the field.

"We feel good about our player's adaptability – we have defenders joining in on the offense or playing in the midfield, we have attackers that can get back and play defense if we need to, so there's a lot of versatility," Timchal says.

Greta Sommers

Maryland will have a first-year starter in net this season in junior Kirah Miles. Miles, who does not have a collegiate start in her career heading into the season, has been honing her skills for this opportunity.

"She's ready," Timchal says of Miles. "She's been backing up for a couple of years and now this is her opportunity to come in. She came in last year at a critical stage of the season and now she'll be right there from the very beginning coming up with big saves for us."

Delia Cox

Schedule

As usual, the Terrapins will again test themselves against the best competition in the country as half of the 2003 NCAA Tournament field, including the other three teams that advanced to the Final Four, makes its way onto the Maryland schedule in 2004. Maryland opens the season at home on Feb. 21 against Richmond before traveling to Duke to open the ACC slate. In a change from past seasons, North Carolina appears on the Terp schedule later this season (4/17).

In addition to the always difficult ACC slate, some old and new squads dot the schedule. Traditional rivals Virginia (3/9) and Georgetown (4/7) will visit College Park in 2004 while Maryland will travel to play Johns Hopkins (4/10), Princeton (4/28) and Loyola (5/1). Former assistant Cathy Nelson-Reese brings her Denver squad to College Park and Quinnipiac and Maryland will do battle for the first time.

The Terps will again compete in the ACC/American Lacrosse Conference Challenge this year in Chapel Hill, N.C., where they will face perennial powers Penn State and Ohio State at the end of March.

"We know that every game is going to be tough," Timchal says.

"We've added some new teams, but we haven't given up some of the toughest teams that we've had on our schedule. We know that we'll get every team's best shot, and we are excited about being able to prove how good we can be this year."

2003 Season Recap

The 2003 season symbolized what could only be characterized as a return for the University of Maryland women's lacrosse team. A return to the top of the Atlantic Coast Conference. At one point, a return to the top of the national rankings. A return to the Final Four. And ultimately, a return to the tradition that is Maryland lacrosse.

The 2003 season started with Maryland ranked sixth in the national polls and many pundits believing that ranking was too high. After a season-opening 20-5 win over No. 20 George Mason, the number of doubters began to dwindle. Those who were left would get all the answers they needed the following week.

As it had almost every other season, Maryland had two of its toughest tests early in the form of North Carolina and Duke. Still a young team, the Terrapins had their work cut out for them against long-time nemesis UNC, but when senior Sonia Judd found the net with 12:29 remaining in the second half against the 10th-ranked Tar Heels, the Terps sealed their first win of the ACC season and awaited second-ranked Duke.

Against the Blue Devils, the Terps came out seeming a hit nervous and fell behind, 3-1. After rattling off three-straight goals, Duke answered with three of its own before Kelly Coppedge scored with just over four minutes left in the half to cut the halftime deficit to one (6-5). The second half was all Maryland with three straight goals going the Terrapins' way before Cheryl Lynn Horton and Maryland native Katie Chrest tied the game at eight. What happened in overtime was one of the stories of the year for the Terps.

Senior Alexis Venechanos, who spent three years working to live up to the expectations of a Terp netminder, came up huge for the Terrapins, making two big saves in what was a 12-save day. Sophomore Acacia Walker scored at the 1:51 mark of the first overtime frame to give Maryland the lead, and Venechanos shut the door the rest of the way. It would be the start of a confidence boost for Venechanos that would lead her to the best season of her career and one of the best in Terrapin lore.

A year after starting 0-2 against the Carolina schools, Maryland now found itself 2-0. Another overtime win, this time against Syracuse, got the team started on a roll that would ultimately see it win its first 11 games. But in that 11th game, the Terps got their first taste of adversity – Venechanos went down with a knee injury.

The injury took place in the first half and Maryland – now the nation's No. 1 team – found itself down 8-5 on the road and without its standout netminder. In what was somewhat of a microcosm of the season, fellow senior Cara Gorman stepped up, made 10 second half saves, and the Terrapins rallied to outscore Georgetown 8-2 in the second frame and win, 13-10.

National Goalkeeper of the Year
Alexis Venechanos

A game later, the Terrapins would suffer their first defeat of the year, but would go on to win the next two, all with Gorman in the net. The team now had one game to prepare for the ACC Tournament and it did so with Venechanos in net and playing on a knee that would require surgery after the season.

When the tournament rolled around in Charlottesville, Va., the team found itself with the conference's player of the year – Kelly Coppedge – and serving as the tourney's top seed. It responded in kind, thumping No. 14 North Carolina, 13-5, and then handling host Virginia for the second time in the season on its home turf, 11-6. Senior Sonia Judd and Julie Shank were joined by juniors Coppedge and Annie Collins on the all-tournament team, while Venechanos was named tournament MVP with her 24 saves in two games.

With three games now left in the regular season, Maryland had one goal in mind – prepare for the NCAA tournament. Things started off well enough with an 18-1 win in the slush over Virginia Tech, but then it got a little rougher. Eventual NCAA champ Princeton handed Maryland a 13-6 defeat, the only game all season that the team looked out of its element. One reason for the letdown was likely an emotional, highly-anticipated matchup later in the week with No. 1 Loyola, a team which was playing for a coach, Diane Geppi-Aikens, who was fighting what would months later be a losing battle with cancer. What would result would be what was likely the game of the year in collegiate women's lacrosse.

In front of a hi-partisan crowd and nearly every television camera in town, the Terrapins fell behind early, 3-0. The one-versus-two matchup then got a lot more interesting as Maryland ran off four-straight goals to take the lead. When the Greyhounds answered with just under four minutes left in the first half, a tie at the half looked inevitable but Judd was fouled after taking the ball to goal and then converted with three seconds left to give the Terps the lead.

Maryland's strong play continued at the start of the second half as Coppedge, Collins and Jessica Dorney each scored to give the home team a three-goal advantage with 20 minutes remaining. Loyola, however, would score four goals in the game's final 12 minutes – three of them unassisted efforts by senior Suzanne Eyler – with the final tally breaking the Terrapins' back with :26 remaining.

With the tournament now staring them in the face, the Terps – a juggernaut all season— now had questions to answer. The first response came in resounding fashion, a NCAA tournament record 26 goals in a 26-6 win over Temple. The next step would put the team in the Final Four.

Poor conditions at Ludwig Field sent what was scheduled to be a home game over to Loyola for the team's game against Dartmouth. After a 2-2 start, freshman Delia Cox and Coppedge teamed up to do the Big Green in. Cox posted a hat trick, consistently beating her defenders all day. Coppedge scored a game-high four goals, added an assist while Maryland scored the game's final seven goals.

Syracuse's Carrier Dome was the site of the Terps' return to the Final Four and the opponent was rival Virginia. The Terrapins felt confident following two decisive wins over the Cavaliers in the regular season, but surprisingly came out skittish. Virginia took advantage of Maryland mistakes and took a 4-2 lead into the locker room.

The second half was a completely different story. The Terps ran their trademark transition offense to perfection and rattled off four-straight goals to start the frame. Virginia answered back with two but then Judd came up big with a pair of goals, doing so in front of her family who was in from Australia for the final games of her outstanding career. With less than seven minutes remaining, it appeared the Terrapins would return to their old stomping grounds, the national finals.

That return, however, never came. The Cavaliers scored three goals in the game's final 4:14, the last a Cary Chasney unassisted tally with 1:33 left, and the Terps season ended at 18-4 and a young team's collective heart broken.

Numerous Terrapins were lauded for their efforts in 2003. Among them: Kelly Coppedge (Tewaaraton Finalist, first team All-American, ACC Player of the Year, National Midfielder of the Year); Alexis Venechanos (National Goalkeeper of the Year); Julie Shank (Division I Scholar-Athlete of the Year); Cindy Timchal (ACC Coach of the Year); Sonia Judd (IWLCA first team All-American); Acacia Walker (IWLCA third team All-American); and Delia Cox (Warrior/Inside Lacrosse Rookie of the Year) to name a few.

In the end, the '03 season was just what the Terrapin program needed. It showed the lacrosse world that the dynasty is far from being an afterthought and with the return of key player in '04, that fact is sure to be reiterated.

The 2003 Terrapins

2003 Game Recaps

Game 1

February 25, 2003
Artificial Turf Facility, College Park, Md.

20 — George Mason 5

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – Maryland opened its 2003 campaign looking like one of the Maryland teams of old, mixing a quick-strike offense with a strong defense in an impressive 20-5 win over No. 20 George Mason at the UM Artificial Turf Facility.

The No. 6 Terrapins (1-0) are now 23-7 in season openers and today's win was in the bag early. Maryland scored nine unanswered goals in the contest's first 12:24 with All-American Kelly Coppedge finding the net three times in the game's first five-and-a-half minutes. The Terrapins' nine goal run — which ended on freshman Delia Cox's first career goal — came on just 10 shots.

Scoring would slow for the Terps and GMU actually scored four of the game's next six goals to cut the deficit to seven (11-4), but Maryland would go on the attack again to pull away for good. Sophomore Annie Collins paced a second-half run with three goals and the Terps would again run off nine-in-a-row before the Patriots scored in the game's final minute to leave the final at 20-5.

Senior netminder Alexis Venechanos was solid in the cage, making six saves while allowing just four goals. The Terrapin defense also gets credit in the strong performance as it held George Mason to just nine shots and only three in the second half, despite the Patriots' need to get back in the game.

In the win, the Terrapins outshot GMU, 41-9, and won the draw control battle, 16-11. In 21 games last season, Maryland hit the 40-shot mark just twice and the 20-goal mark just once while it achieved both today and did so with amazing efficiency (.488 team shooting percentage).

Maryland put 10 players in the scoring column with Coppedge leading all scorers with a career-high tying seven points while also tying a career best with five goals. Sophomore Acacia Walker was active all game and added her third career hat trick to go along with three assists. Senior Sonia Judd had five points (two goals, three assists) while Collins finished the game with four goals. Judd was also strong on the draw in the second half, coming away with four draw controls and leading the Terps to a 9-5 second-half advantage in that area.

Stacy Berger and Lisa Hagan each led George Mason (0-1) in scoring with a goal and an assist apiece.

Game 2

March 2, 2003
Artificial Turf Facility, College Park, Md.

10 — 8

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – Maryland continued its strong early season play, handing No. 10 North Carolina a 10-8 defeat at the UM Artificial Turf Facility. The victory was the Terrapins' first regular-season Atlantic Coast Conference win since 2001 and moved the team to 2-0 overall (1-0 ACC).

As it had in its season opener against George Mason, No. 6 Maryland jumped on the Tar Heels quickly, staking itself a 5-0 lead in the game's first 10 minutes. Junior All-American Kelly Coppedge led the way early scoring a pair of goals and assisting on another.

The Tar Heels (1-1, 0-1 ACC), however, would not let the game get too out of hand as they chipped away, scoring the final three goals of the first half and cutting the Terps' halftime lead to 5-3.

The start of the second half was similar to the first with Maryland taking the early advantage with three unanswered goals. In that stretch, Sonia Judd showed scored a pair of goals and assisted on the other. It was the start of what would ultimately end in a career game for the senior from Darlington, South Australia.

Carolina would answer the Terp run with a pair of goals of its own, cutting the lead back to 8-5, but Judd would again go on the attack to extend the Terp lead. At the 45:02 mark, Judd was able to find the net after a strong run in from the eight meter and minutes later, she converted a free position attempt to post her career-high tying fifth goal and move the Maryland lead back to five.

UNC would again run off three goals to cut the lead to two, but that would be as close as the Tar Heels would get as the Terrapins would successfully defend its goal and run out the clock. Senior Alexis Venechanos was key to the defensive effort, making nine saves with six coming in an outstanding first half.

Judd led all scorers with a career-high eight points (five points, three assists) and was super efficient, converting her five goals on just seven shots. Coppedge added two goals and a pair of assists while sophomore Acacia Walker added a goal and an assist.

Game 3

March 6, 2003
Artificial Turf Facility, College Park, Md.

9 — 8 (ot)

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – The Terps kept their 2003 turnaround intact as they handed second-ranked Duke a 9-8 overtime loss at the UM Artificial Turf Facility. The Terrapins — who started last season 1-2 and 0-2 in the ACC — handed Duke (3-1, 0-1 ACC) their first loss of the season while moving to 3-0 overall.

In the win, the fourth-ranked Terps overcame a first half that saw them playing from behind to a Duke team that seemed to be in control before ultimately moving on and playing a strong second half and overtime period. In that first half, Duke opened the game with a pair of goals by Katie Chrest before the teams would trade single goals en route to an early 3-1 Blue Devil lead. It was the first time this season that the Terps did not open the game with a scoring burst and was, in fact, the first time Maryland had trailed this season.

The Terrapins, however, would run off the game's next three goals to take the lead with sophomore Acacia Walker netting a pair in the mini-run. Duke would answer with three of its own before junior Kelly Coppedge scored at the 25:49 mark, the final goal of the first half, cutting the Duke advantage to 6-5. Duke outshot the Terrapins 18-9 in the frame but four of its six first-half goals came on free position shots.

The second half began with a totally different feel with Maryland controlling the draws and play. The Terrapins ran off four unanswered goals in the half's first seven minutes with three coming from Coppedge. Duke's Cheryl Lynn Horton answered with a goal of her own at the 46:07 mark and neither team scored for the next 19-plus minutes as the Terrapins held on to a 8-7 lead.

With 4:49 left in regulation, it was Maryland native Katie Chrest again, taking a feed from Katie Laschinger to tie the score. Both teams would have their chances in the game's final minutes but neither could convert and the game went to overtime.

In the first overtime frame, it was Walker again for Maryland, finishing on a run in from the eight-meter to give the Terps the lead with 1:51 remaining in that first extra frame. Less than a minute later, the Blue Devils had their best chance at tying the game as Chrest was awarded a free position shot, but senior goalie Alexis Venechanos came up with her first of two huge overtime stops. The teams would switch sides and Maryland successfully held the ball away from the Blue Devils for much of the period with Venechanos again making a huge save on the loan Duke shot, this time stopping Lauren Gallagher's attempt with 1:11 remaining.

Game 4

Artificial Turf Facility, College Park, Md.

8 SYRACUSE ATHLETICS 7 (ot)

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – Maryland was forced to show its poise for the second time in the same week and was able to come away with an 8-7 overtime win over No. 7 Syracuse at the UM Artificial Turf Facility. The win was the fourth-ranked Terps' second overtime victory of the week and pushed the team's record to 4-0 (1-0 ACC). The Orangewomen proved a tough foe for the Terrapins as they successfully employed a tactic very familiar to Maryland teams over the years – the stall. Syracuse held the ball for the majority of the first half and were adept at keeping the hall in the Maryland end with a very low-risk approach that staked them a 4-2 halftime lead and limited the Terps to just seven first half shots. SU took only six shots of its own, hut four found the net with Monica Joines and Leigh-Ann Zimmer each scoring twice.

In the second half, Maryland was able to push the tempo and take better control of play. Sophomore Kristie Leggio opened the second-half scoring on a free position shot just :58 into the second frame before fellow sophomore Annie Collins was able to score on an unassisted goal at the 35:13 mark to tie the game. Syracuse would reclaim the lead on a Joines goal four minutes later before a Terp newcomer asserted herself.

With 18:40 left in the second half, freshman Delia Cox scored on a free position shot and then 19 seconds later took a feed from Collins and finished to give Maryland the lead back at 6-5. Joines – the game's leading scorer with four goals – again answered, this time with 10:57 left in regulation and the game was tied at six.

In the first overtime frame, Danielle Lillis made an impressive run through the Terrapin defense to score the lone goal of the first half of overtime and the Terps trailed as the teams switched ends.

Syracuse won the opening draw of the second half of overtime but turned the hall over. Maryland settled in on offense before senior Sonia Judd found sophomore Jessica Dorney at the 6:02 mark to tie the game again at 7-7. Dorney then came up with the ensuing draw and the Terps were again in business on the offensive end.

Game 5

March 11, 2003
Klockner Stadium, Charlottesville, Va.

11 V 8

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. – The Terrapins completed their turnaround in the Atlantic Coast Conference as they beat No. 8 Virginia, 11-8, in Charlottesville to finish its conference regular season with a 3-0 mark. It was the Terps third-straight win against a Top 10 opponent.

Maryland (5-0, 3-0 ACC) jumped out to an early 3-0 lead and the Cavaliers were never able to net the equalizer.

The Terps jumped out early with two goals from Kelly Coppedge and a goal and an assist from first-time starter Brooke Richards in the first 11:09 of the game. Virginia answered back as Pfeiffer made a save and in the fast break off of it, a long outlet pass found Cary Chasney, who fed Caitlin Banks on the goal circle for Virginia's first goal. Maryland won the ensuing draw but UVa caused a turnover in the arc and Morgan Thalenherg picked up the loose ball, starting the fast break that found Elizabeth Pinney feeding Aumiller on the goal circle for Virginia's second goal and a 3-2 deficit.

A Jessica Dorney goal with 1:18 to play in the half moved the margin hack to two at 4-2, and the Terps won the next draw. The Terps were called for protecting the crosse, however, and the Cavaliers gained possession. Banks fed Appelt, who rolled around the crease and scored with 1:01 to play, pulling the Cavaliers within one yet again. Maryland again won the draw and Dorney scored on an eight-meter shot with :18 on the clock, sending the teams to halftime with the Terps up 5-3.

Maryland scored the first two goals of the second half in a span of 3:36 to give them a 7-3 cushion. Thalenberg won the draw and got the ball upfield to Banks, who drove to the cage for a goal 24 seconds after the Terp tally. Another two-goal run from the Terrapins gave the Terps a 9-4 lead with 20 minutes to play.

From that point on, the Terps used a successful, plodding offense that produced two more goals and ran enough clock that the Cavalier comeback would end in futility. And though Virginia was able to cut the Terp lead at one point in the second half to three, a two-goal burst in a span of 40 seconds from Maryland moved the margin back to five with 8:44 to play.

15 BROWN 5

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – Maryland continued its strong play as it handed Ivy League foe Brown a 15-5 defeat at Ludwig Field.

The third-ranked Terps took control from the get-go in the contest as freshman Delia Cox scored less than two minutes in while sophomore Jessica Dorney – who is in the midst of the best offensive run of her short career – made it 2-0 with an unassisted tally at the 3:26 mark.

Brown's Christine Anneberg would answer with what would be the Bears' lone goal of the first half on a free position shot, and then the Terrapin offense took over. At the 12:56 mark, senior Sonia Judd found the net after a strong run in from the top of the arc and that would be the heginning of the end for Brown as was the start of an eight-goal Maryland run. Dorney, Acacia Walker and Judd all led the way in the streak of eight unanswered goals as each found the net twice.

The run – which moved the score from 2-1 to to 10-1 in Maryland's favor – ended in the second half when Brown's Kate Staley scored on a free position shot. Coincidentally, three of Brown's five goals in the game came on free positions.

The Terrapins would score the next two goals to push its lead to 10 (12-2) and keep the clock running. From that point on, the teams would each score three goals with the Terrapins successfully running out the clock.

Judd led all scorers with a hat trick and a pair of assists for five points. Dorney netted her second hat trick in as many games with hoth Judd and Dorney netting their three goals on just four shots. Kelly Coppedge, Kristie Leggio and Walker all finished with three points (two goals and an assist apiece) while Cox found the net twice in the contest. Walker was also strong on the draw (five draw controls) while senior netminder Alexis Venechanos continued her solid work in the cage with six saves and just four goals allowed.

9 D 2

HANOVER, N.H. - In the battle of the unbeatens at Dartmouth's Scully-Fahey Field, Maryland took a 9-2 victory over No.10 Dartmouth College. With the win, the Terrapins improved to 7-0 on the season (3-0 ACC).

In the win, the Terps got out of the gate early, posting the game's first three goals. Sophomores Kristie Leggio and Acacia Walker netted the game's first two goals before junior Kelly Coppedge netter the third. When Dartmouth's Whitney Jamison scored the first goal of the game for the Big Green, the Terp lead was cut to two. It was the closest the hometown team would get all day.

Maryland went on to run off the game's next four goals, pushing its lead out to 7-1 and then used a strong defense to coast home with the win.

Freshman Delia Cox paced the Terrapins with her first career hat trick. Sonia Judd led all scorers with four points behind a pair of goals and a pair of assists.

On the defensive side, the Terps held the Dartmouth women to their fewest goals scored since a 15-2 loss in 1996 at Princeton, also ranked second at the time.

Between the pipes, Dartmouth's Devon Wills made 10 saves, while Maryland's Alexis Venechanos stopped 12 shots on goal while allowing just two goals. Venechanos left the game owning a career-best .598 save percentage on the season and allowing just 6.84 goals per outing. Fellow senior Cara Gorman came on in the final minute and chipped in with a save of her own.

Game 8

March 22, 2003
Foreman Field, Norfolk, Va.

16 — 5

NORFOLK, Va. - The Terps handed Old Dominion University a 16-5 defeat at Foreman Field in Norfolk, Va. Maryland pushed its series record over the 16th-ranked Monarchs to 21-0.

Things weren't as easy in the beginning as it would seem for Maryland, as shot after shot either was saved, went wide or found the post on the Terp offensive end. With 16:00 remaining in the first half, Maryland owned a mere 3-2 advantage. From that point until the half's final three minutes, the Terps would again outscore ODU 3-2 to push their lead to 6-4 in the game. With those three minutes remaining, the Monarchs took possession and looked to hold for a final shot, hoping for a tally that would keep the Terps within a goal.

But with 30 seconds left, Annie Collins forced a turnover in the Old Dominion end and pushed the ball upfield. The Terps went from end to end and with three seconds left on the clock, Jessica Dorney found senior Sonia Judd and Judd put the ball away, giving Maryland a 7-4 halftime edge. It was an advantage that seemed slim after the halftime box score indicated that the Terps held a 20-8 advantage in shots.

The second half would feature Maryland taking less shots (13), but finishing more. Kelly Coppedge started the second half onslaught scoring a pair of goals in the first 5:02. ODU answered at the 38:35 mark and that would be it for the Monarchs' scoring on the day. Maryland rattled off the game's next (and final) seven goals, ultimately pushing the clock into running time and running away with victory.

COLUMBUS, Ohio - Kelly Coppedge scored the game winning goal at 52:31 to give second-ranked Maryland (9-0) an 11-10 victory over 11th-ranked Penn State (4-4) in the first game of the American Lacrosse Conference ACC Challenge.

Coppedge had three goals in the contest — as did Sonia Judd for the Terrapins — while the junior's second goal of the game was the 100th of her two-plus year career. Penn State's Colleen O'Hara had a team-high three goals and three assists for the Nittany Lions.

Penn State opened the game by taking a 3-0 lead on goals by Shari Maslin (7:37), Katie Jeschke (9:11) and Jamie Donohue (12:22). Maryland responded with goals by Coppedge (19:01), Acacia Walker (19:47) and Laura Warren (20:48) to tie the game at three. A second goal by Coppedge (21:05) and one from Jessica Dorney (22:13) gave Maryland a 5-3 lead. The Nittany Lions cut the margin to one at 5-4 with a Kristen Burke (26:09) goal. Maryland, behind back (26:23)-to-back (26:31) goals by Judd and took a 7-4 lead. Penn State closed out the scoring in the half with a goal credited to Maslin at 28:27 and trailed Maryland, 7-5. The tally was actually an own goal by the Terps' Annie Collins who was trying to flick a loose ball back to goalie Alexis Venechanos.

In the second half, Penn State goals by O'Hara (33:14) and Kristin Wood (34:47) tied the game at seven. The Terrapins regained the lead at 40:04 with a goal by Collins. The Nittany Lions tied the game at eight with a O'Hara goal at 42:36. Penn State regained the lead at 9-8 with a free position goal by O'Hara. 10 — 5

COLUMBUS, Ohio - The Terps handed 16th-ranked Ohio State (7-2) a 10-5 loss in the final game of the American Lacrosse Conference/ACC Challange held at the Jesse Owens Memorial Stadium.

Playing in a strong breeze with a temperature of 33 degrees (-4 wind chill) Maryland scored the first five goals of the game and never allowed the Buckeyes to come closer than two (6-4, 7-5) in the contest. Maryland's start for the season marks the ninth time in school history that it has started the season 10-0.

Maryland wasted little time in scoring just 46 second into the game on a Sonia Judd goal, assisted by Kristie Leggio. Judd scored again at 2:12 to make it 2-0. At 4:27, Leggio scored on an assist from Acacia Walker. Terrapin goals by Jessica Dorney (12:49) and Kelly Coppedge (15:39) gave Maryland a 5-0 lead. Ohio State's Regina Oliver put the Buckeyes on the scoreboard with a goal at 16:54. Oliver scored again at 22:01 with an assist from Tracey Bounds to cut the Maryland lead to 5-2. The Terrapins closed out the first half with a Walker goal at 22:59 to go at halftime leading 6-2.

Ohio State opened the second half with Oliver's third goal at 31:55. A free position attempt by Caroline Weatherill at 33:18 cut the Terrapin lead to 6-4. Maryland made it 7-4 with a goal by Lauren Warren at 45:41. Ohio State countered that at 46:25 with a goal by Shannon Wilson, making it 7-5. Maryland scored three consecutive goals to build a 10-5 lead for the final margin. Annie Collins started the run, scoring at 54:00. Just 59 seconds later, Coppedge scored (54:59) her second goal of the game on an assist from Judd. Walker closed out the scoring in the game with her second goal at 57:53, a backhander in front of the cage that was assisted by Leggio.

Game 11

April 2, 2003
North Kehoe Field, Washington, D.C.

13 — 10

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The Terps overcame more than one scare today and ultimately came away triumphant,beating No. 6 Georgetown, 13-10, at North Kehoe Field. The win pushed No. 1 Maryland to 11-0 (3-0 ACC) on the season, while the Hoyas fell to 6-3.

Things did not look good early on for the Terps as Georgetown jumped out to a 3-1 lead in the game's first 12 minutes. Prior to the Hoyas' third goal of the game, standout senior netminder Alexis Venechanos took a wrong step on her right knee, necessitating that she come to the sideline for evaluation. She came out at the 18:41 mark in the first half and fellow senior Cara Gorman came in to try to right the ship.

Less than a minute later, GU tallied another goal to up its lead to 4-1 before Kristie Leggio found the net for the Terps to cut the deficit back to two. Venechanos then made a return to the cage for the Terps but had lost her mobility and ultimately allowed two more goals before her knee finally gave way for good. When sophomore Kirah Miles entered with 5:30 left in the half, the Terps were down 6-4 and momentum sat with the blue and gray of Georgetown.

As the half came to a close, Maryland trailed 8-5 — its largest halftime deficit of the season — and was searching for answers on both ends of the field.

The first answer came in the 5-2 frame of Gorman. Georgetown came out confident and continued its attack in the second half, but Gorman had returned to the game and was giving the Terps a boost with key save after save in the early minutes of the frame. After a goal by freshman Delia Cox and another by Jessica Dorney on a nice feed from Acacia Walker, Maryland was back within a goal and searching for more.

Junior Kelly Coppedge netted an unassisted goal to tie the score at eight and with 18:35 left in the second half, it was Cox again taking charge and finding the net to give Maryland its first lead of the day.

The Terps would ultimately run off eight second half goals and limit the host Hoyas to two in pulling away with the three-goal win, but again, Gorman was the story in the second half.

As she did in several games a year ago, Gorman simply gave the Terps a boost by shutting down their opponent. She finished the game with 10 saves — all in the second half — while allowing just three goals, two of which came in the second half.

Game 12

April 5, 2003
Byrd Stadium, College Park, Md.

JMU 9 — Maryland 8

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Maryland was handed its first loss of the 2003 campaign as the James Madison Dukes pulled out a 9-8 win at Byrd Stadium. The Terrapins — who came from behind on Wednesday against Georgetown — now stand at 11-1 (3-0 ACC) while JMU moves to 8-3 on the season.

In the first half, the Terps had trouble getting started on the offensive end and James Madison took advantage. The Dukes got strong play from its two leading scorers — Lisa Staedt and Gail Decker — as the duo rattled off two goals apiece in the game's first 13:29, staking JMU to a 4-1 lead.

With 11:20 left in the half, the Terp offense got going as senior Sonia Judd scored on a free position goal. Freshman Delia Cox — who would finish the week with six goals — and sophomore Kristie Leggio each tallied a pair of goals before the end of the half and with the Dukes finding the net twice in the half's final 10 minutes, the two teams would head to the locker room with the score knotted at six.

As it did in the first half, the Terrapins started slow in the second half and James Madison took advantage. Staedt scored her third goal of the game at the 32:36 mark, Decker found the net at 44:39 and Brooke McKenzie scored at 46:20 and the Terps all of a sudden trailed by three with less than 15 minutes remaining.

Maryland started its comeback with 11:21 left in the game as Judd again scored on a free position, but the Dukes — as they did all game — won the ensuing draw and started running the clock. After a turnover, JMU got the ball back with 9:00 remaining and stalled for the next six minutes, holding the ball on the wings. With 2:56 left, the Dukes turned it over and Judd came away with the ground ball and headed for goal. Fourteen seconds later, she found Acacia Walker in front of the net and the James Madison lead was cut to one.

The Dukes again came away with the next draw and successfully held the ball for over a minute. With 1:26 left, Annie Collins caused a turnover near midfield and Judd scooped it up, again racing to the goal. She was ultimately fouled inside the eight meter and awarded a free position, her second of the game. Uncharacteristically, however, her shot with 1:14 left went wide right and James Madison ran down the ground ball. The Dukes then successfully ran out the clock under a barrage of attacking Maryland defenders.

April 10, 2003
Ludwig Field, College Park, Md.

Maryland 21 — William & Mary 6

COLLEGE PARK, MD. — The second-ranked Terps got back in the win column in a big way today on a cold, wet day at Ludwig Field as they defeated The College of William & Mary, 21-5. The Terrapins are now 12-1 while the Tribe drops to 1-11.

The game did not get off to the start one would expect as the Tribe scored the game's first two goals and at the 4:35 mark, the Terps were in a 2-0 hole.

Sophomore Acacia Walker would jump start the Maryland offense just 19 seconds later as she fed a cutting Kelly Coppedge for the Terrapins' first goal of the game. Walker would dish out three more assists in the next five minutes and senior Sonia Judd would net a hat trick in the span and all of a sudden Maryland led, 6-2.

William & Mary's Allison Evans scored on a free position shot at the 20:24 mark to cut the lead to 6-3 and the Terps were off to the races again. Maryland ran off the game's next nine goals with Coppedge and Judd each getting three more in the span and with 26:55 left to go in the game, the Terrapins had a 15-3 lead. Evans would again break the string and the Terps ran off four more to lead 19-4 with the game in running time.

In the end, Judd led all scorers while posting a career-high with nine points and seven goals, most by a Terp since fellow Aussie and current Maryland assistant Jen Adams posted eight goals and four assists against Johns Hopkins on April 14th of 2001. Coppedge set a career-high as well with her six goals, improving on her previous best of five set five times in her career.

Maryland 19 — Blue Jays 4

COLLEGE PARK, MD. — The second-ranked Maryland women's lacrosse team beat No. 19 Johns Hopkins, 19-4. With the win, the Terrapins move to 13-1 (3-0 ACC) on the season while the Blue Jays fall to 6-3.

It didn't take long for Maryland to show what kind of day it would be as it took the opening draw, senior Sonia Judd took a few steps, saw a streaking Kelly Coppedge and fed the junior for a goal just 19 seconds in. The Terps then ran off the game's next seven goals and 17:55 in, the Terrapins were up 7-0.

Coppedge was the story of the day, scoring a career-high seven goals and besting her top single-game mark set just four days ago against William & Mary when she had six. She also excelled in corralling loose balls as she posted a team-high five draw controls in the game to go along with three ground balls.

As a team, Maryland outshot Hopkins 42-15, had 13 caused turnovers (compared to JHU's seven) and won 16 of 25 draw controls.

Joining Coppedge atop the stat column were Judd, who finished with five points on three goals and two assists.

Senior goalkeeper Alexis Venechanos made a successful return from injury as she got the win, allowing four goals while making five saves. Sophomore Kirah Miles closed the game's final five minutes, coming up with two saves.

ACC Tournament Semifinals

Maryland 13 — North Carolina 5

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. — Maryland advanced to the ACC championship game for the sixth time in seven years with a dominating 13-5 victory over the fourth-seeded North Carolina Tar Heels on a rainy afternoon at Klockner Stadium.

Recently announced ACC Player of the Year Kelly Coppedge and fellow All-ACC pick Sonia Judd each scored four goals and added an assist to lead all scorers with five points. All-ACC goalie Alexis Venechanos continued her sensational play with 11 saves while Delia Cox also tallied a pair of goals and an assist.

Maryland jumped out to a 4-0 lead just 17:33 in as Judd was on fire early, tallying three goals before 15 minutes had elapsed in the contest. Cox chipped in the other goal in the four goal run before North Carolina got on the board for the first time as Brooke Dieringer scored with 12:12 left in the first half.

Maryland poured on the offense again after the Tar Heels scored the first goal of the second half, netting the next seven goals including two by Coppedge along with single goals by Acacia Walker, Judd, Jessica Dorney, Cox and Annie Collins to take a 13-2 lead with 6:31 left in the game.

Carolina mounted a mild comeback scoring the the next three goals to bring the Heels to within 13-5 with 1:30 left, but Maryland's lead was too big for the 14th-ranked Tar Heels to overcome.

The Terps, the nation's No. 2 team in the latest IWLCA poll, posted their best defensive outing in an ACC game since they held Virginia to just five goals in a 13-5 victory on April 25, 1999 in the ACC Tournament. It was also the fewest goals North Carolina has scored against the Terps since a 14-2 Maryland win on March 9, 1996.

ACC Tournament Championship

11 — 6

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. — The Terps officially completed their return to the top of the Atlantic Coast Conference with an impressive 11-6 win over host and No. 3 seed Virginia in the ACC Finals. The win gave Maryland the tournament championship after it had secured the No. 1 seed with a perfect 3-0 regular season mark.

Five Terps were honored for their play in the tournament as seniors Sonia Judd and Julie Shank were joined by juniors Annie Collins and Kelly Coppedge on the all-tournament team. Senior goalie Alexis Venechanos was named the tournament's most valuable player.

The Terrapins (15-1, 3-0 ACC) were dominant from start to finish. The game began with the two teams exchanging goals in the first six minutes. Maryland then ran off the half's next six goals to take a 7-1 lead to the locker room. In the run, four different Terps found the net with Coppedge and Kristie Leggio leading the way with two goals apiece. The Terrapin defense was tough in the half, limiting the Cavaliers (12-4) to just nine shots.

The second half saw Virginia working to try to get back in the game, but the 'Hoos chipped away at the Maryland lead a little too slow considering their were down six at the break. Morgan Thalenberg and Cary Chasney each scored to cut the Maryland lead to 7-3 and the Cavaliers successfully held the Terps in check for the first 15 minutes of the second frame.

As she did in the first half, Collins would get Maryland on the board for the first time in the second half, converting on a free position shot at 44:51. Virginia would answer at the 46:00 mark, but that four-goal margin would be as close as UVa would come the remainder of the day.

Maryland would score three more times and Venechanos would make save after save en route to victory. For the game, Venechanos set a season high with 13 saves while she stopped all four of Virginia's free position attempts on the day.

Sophomore Acacia Walker led all scorers with five points, converting two of her four shots on goal and dishing out three assists.

18 — VT 1

COLLEGE PARK, MD. — The Terrapins came away with an 18-1 victory over Virginia Tech on a muddy, rain-soaked Ludwig Field. The game — which was the first meeting between the two teams — was called with 9:38 left in the second half due to the poor field conditions.

Maryland got on the board early and often in moving to 16-1 (3-0 ACC) on the season. Junior Kelly Coppedge and freshman Delia Cox each netted two in the game's first eight minutes while sophomore Annie Collins added another and the Terps were off and running with a 5-0 advantage. The muddy conditions had both teams struggling to maintain possession on the offensive end, but despite the troubles, Maryland seemed to be aided by the field conditions when it came to their work in transition on the offensive end.

Virginia got on the board for the first time with 18:47 left in the half on a free position shot by Stephanie Jones. That would be the end of scoring on the day for the Hokies.

The Terps would push their lead from 5-1 to 15-1 by the half. For the first time this season, every Terp who was eligible to play saw action including all three goalies. The on-field diversity showed in the final stat line.

Players who scored for the first time in their careers included freshmen Emily Jaissle (three assists) and Lauren Reid (one goal). Coppedge led all scorers with five goals and an assist. Cox posted a hat trick, Collins netted a pair of goals and an assist and Kristie Leggio posted a career-high three assists. Two other Terps (Sonia Judd and Molly Lambert) posted a pair of goals in the win.

Ludwig Field, College Park, Md.

13 — 6

COLLEGE PARK, MD. — Maryland suffered its worse defeat of the 2003 campaign in falling to No. 6 Princeton, 13-6. The loss — just the Terps' second of the season — drops Maryland to 16-2 (3-0 ACC) while the Tigers move to 11-4 with the upset.

Second-ranked Maryland actually opened scoring in the game as Annie Collins ran in an unassisted goal at 11:27. Princeton answered less than a minute later but Jessica Dorney put the Terrapins back on top with an unassisted goal of her own at 13:17.

Scoring remained slow for the first 20 minutes and Maryland maintained its 2-1 lead, but the Tiger offense came alive when the clock hit 10:00 in the first half. Whitney Miller got things started with a pair of goals that kicked off a four-goal Tiger run with Lindsey Biles scoring the other two in a four minute stretch. Terp junior Kelly Coppedge found the net on an unassisted goal with 2:38 left in the half and freshman Delia Cox followed with another goal :30 later on a feed from senior Julie Shank and the two teams would head to the half with a goal separating them (5-4 Princeton).

When Coppedge was able to finish after a pass from Acacia Walker at 30:31, the Terps looked like they were back on track with the score knotted at five. Three minutes later, Princeton would start a run that would dampen the Maryland hopes.

Leigh Slonaker scored three goals in a five-goal Tiger run that moved the score from 5-5 to 10-5 in Princeton's favor and just nine minutes remained on the clock. Coppedge would net her third goal of the game with 5:25 left, but the Tigers continued to win draws and play keep away while drawing the Terrapin defense away from the net which gave Princeton opportunities to tack on three more for the final seven-goal margin.

Ludwig Field, College Park, Md.

COLLEGE PARK, MD. — In a game that more than lived up to its billing, the second-ranked Terrapins fell in a 9-8 heartbreaker to top-ranked Loyola in front of nearly a thousand fans at Ludwig Field.

The Greyhounds got the win with four unanswered goals in the game's last 13:00, but it was a game that left one with the feeling that if the game had another 30 minutes, it still would have finished with a one-goal margin.

Loyola took charge in the early going, scoring the game's first three goals while goalkeeper Kim Lawton held the Terrapins at bay. Delia Cox got things started for the Terps, however, when she scored on an eight meter at the 7:47 mark. Less than five minutes later, junior Kelly Coppedge redirected what looked like an errant Kristie Leggio shot to cut the margin to one before Cox scored on another free position shot just over a minute later.

Sonia Judd would give the Terps their first lead of the day after scoring on a feed from Coppedge while senior goalie Alexis Venechanos made save after save in holding Loyola scoreless for over 19 minutes. That drought would end with Kristi Korrow's goal on a free position shot with just under four minutes left in the half and the score was knotted back at four.

The half came to a close with Maryland controlling the ball in their end for the final minute. Judd ultimately made her way inside the arc and was fouled, a play that would culminate in her finding the net on a free position shot with :03 left in the frame.

The second half began the same as the first ended as Maryland scored just :36 into the period as Annie Collins found a cutting Coppedge. Collins later took matter into her own hands on an unassisted goal and when Judd found sophomore Jessica Dorney in front of the net for the Terps' eighth goal of the game, all of a sudden Maryland was on top by three goals with just over 20 minutes remaining.

Things still looked good for the Terps with just under 13:00 left, but Greyhound senior Suzanne Eyler scored on an unassisted goal and what would he a sign of things to come. After a Jen Schuerholz free position goal, Eyler would score one of her own and the game was tied at 8-8 with pressure mounting.

NCAA Tournament First Round

26 — 6

COLLEGE PARK, MD. — The second-seeded Terps posted an overwhelming 26-6 win over Temple at Ludwig Field in NCAA first round matchup. In the win, the Terrapins (17-3, 3-0 ACC) set an NCAA tournament record for goals while posting their largest goal total since 1986 (55 against Towson).

Maryland has now won 22 of its last 23 NCAA games and own a 33-9 record in NCAA tournament action. Its win over Temple (13-6, 7-0 Atlantic 10) was their 13th-in-a-row against the Owls and it now own a 15-10-1 advantage in the series that began in 1981.

Ten minutes into the game, no one would have predicted that 32 goals would be scored between the two teams as the contest's first goal came with nearly 10 minutes elapsed in the first half as Annie Collins scored on an unassisted goal at 9:32. Up until that point, Temple netminder Sheena Oommen had been strong, making save after save. She finished the first half with 10 saves.

After the Owls scored with 16:24 left in the half, the Terrapin offense took over. Acacia Walker and Jessica Dorney scored a pair of goals to help key an eight-goal Maryland run. Temple's Megan Condon found the net on an unassisted run and the two teams went to the half with the Terps ahead, 10-2.

In the second half, the Terps and Owls exchanged a pair of goals early and then it was off to the races again for Maryland as it then ran off nine unanswered goals. In this run, Dorney scored three while junior Kelly Coppedge and senior Sonia Judd each added a pair. With just under 15:00 remaining, Maryland owned a 20-3 lead and began to empty its bench.

With their 26 goals, the Terrapins broke the NCAA tournament mark set by Princeton which posted 25 in opening round action a year ago against LeMoyne on its way to the national title. The Terps also set an NCAA tournament record today for shots with 52, surpassing the mark of 48 by Delaware in 1984 while the 20-goal margin of victory was also the second-most ever in an NCAA game (Princeton beat LeMoyne by 22 last year).

Among the single-game season highs for Maryland as a team were its totals in shots (52), ground balls (40) and draw controls (24).

Game 21

May 11, 2003
Curley Field, Baltimore, Md.
NCAA Tournament Quarterfinals

13 — 5

COLLEGE PARK, MD. — Maryland earned its 13th trip in the last 14 years to the NCAA semifinals behind a 13-5 win over Dartmouth College in Baltimore. The Terps (18-3, 3-0 ACC) heat the Big Green (13-5) despite losing some of their home field advantage. Due to poor conditions at Ludwig Field, the game was pushed back to 3:30 p.m. and was played at Curley Field on the campus of Loyola College.

The first half of the contest was nip-and-tuck and a battle of contrasting styles. In typical fashion, Maryland sought to score as soon as an opportunity presented itself while Dartmouth ran a deliberate, slow-down approach that kept the Terps at bay better than in the first meeting between the two schools.

Maryland scored the game's first two goals as Kristie Leggio scored on a free position followed by an unassisted goal by Delia Cox at the 6:08 mark. Dartmouth returned the favor on goals by Whitney Jamison and Lana Smith before the Terps ran off four unanswered in the frame's last seven minutes. In that span, Sonia Judd netted two including one on a feed from Kelly Coppedge from behind the net.

The half seemed to be well in hand for Maryland but Dartmouth did not let up as Smith scored on an unassisted goal with 1:06 left before the break and then Casey Hazel scored just :12 later and the two schools would take it to the half with just two goals separating them (6-4, Maryland).

Neither team was able to score in the early going of the second half and when Smith scored her third goal of the game, Maryland found itself only ahead by a goal. The Big Green had a chance to tie the game a minute later, but Terp goalie Alexis Venechanos saved a Dartmouth free position shot and the Terrapins took over.

Maryland would score all seven of its goals after the save starting with Coppedge's unassisted score with 15:33 left. The junior would score two more in the half, as would Acacia Walker, while the Terp defense held the Big Green to a total of just seven second half shots, five of which came on awarded free position attempts.

NCAA Tournament Semifinals

SYRACUSE, N.Y. - The NCAA semifinals were not kind to higher seeds or teams from Maryland as the second-seeded University of Maryland women's lacrosse team dropped a heartbreaker to third-seeded Virginia, 9-8, at Syracuse University's Carrier Dome.

Maryland fell behind early in the game, staking the Wahoos a 4-2 halftime lead. But the youthful Terrapins — who will return all but three starters next year — stormed back in the second half. The team got going when Acacia Walker's errant pass bounced past her intended target then past UVa goalie Andrea Pfeiffer and into the net.

The first came just :13 after Walker's goal as Laura Warren took the draw, fed freshman Delia Cox who found a streaking Kristie Leggio for a quick goal that tied the game at four. Just under three minutes later, Walker turned on the baseline and found a cutting Jessica Dorney who one-timed it for a one-goal Terp lead. The four-goal run was capped by another one-timer, this time when Warren assisted Leggio for her second goal in the string and the Terrapins led 6-4.

Virginia got back in the game with a pair of goals and at the 48:58 mark, the two teams were tied at six. With 8:23 remaining, Sonia Judd got in on the act for the first time on the night as she scored on an unassisted goal. She put the Terps up two just 1:12 later after a nice feed from Walker — her second of the night — and Maryland was sitting on an 8-6 lead with 7:11 remaining. The Cavs got a pair of goals from Caitlin Banks to tie the game. Virginia then had several chances to take the lead in the final three minutes but Alexis Venechanos made two big saves at point-blank range to keep the Terps in it.

The game winner ultimately came with just 1:33 left when UVa's Cary Chasney beat Venechanos before the Cavs won the game's final draw and ran out the clock. In the loss, there were some notable efforts for the Terps, first being the defense's holding the nation's leading scorer — Lauren Aumiller — to just one point.

All-Time Terp Greats

The 2002-2003 athletics year was a special one in Atlantic Coast Conference history as the league marked its 50th anniversary. As part of the golden celebration, the conference named all-time teams from each of the sports it sponsors. The ACC has a short but rich history in women's lacrosse as over half (11) of the 21 NCAA championships have been won by current ACC schools – with nine of those being won by Maryland. Needless to say, when the list of the ACC's 55 all-time best players was released at the end of 2002, it was dotted with Terrapins. Sixty percent of the team – or a total of 33 players – were from the University of Maryland, a reflection as strong as any of the tradition that is Maryland lacrosse.

"Strive for clarity, but accept and understand ambiguity."

That phrase captures one way in which an educated person approaches the world and its challenges. Students who graduate from the University of Maryland have been exposed to the tools that allow them to put that perspective to work. Imparting such a perspective may be an ambitious project for undergraduate education, but to aim for anything less would be unworthy of a great university's goals for its students. Thirteen years ago, Promises to Keep, a plan for undergraduate education at Maryland, articulated those goals so eloquently we repeat them here.

Undergraduate education at Maryland "aims to provide students with a sense of identity and purpose, a concern for others, a sense of responsibility for the quality of life around them, a continuing eagerness for knowledge and understanding, and a foundation for a lifetime of personal enrichment."

As we learn with and from one another, we try to "develop human values," "celebrate tolerance and fairness," "contribute to the social conscience," "monitor and assess private and collective assumptions," and "recognize the glory, tragedy and humor of the human condition." Your years at the University of Maryland can provide you with all the tools you need to accomplish these goals. Students here are "educated to be able to read with perception and pleasure, write and speak with clarity and verve, handle numbers and computation proficiently, reason mathematically, generate clear questions and find probable arguments, reach substantiated conclusions and accept ambiguity."

And we also hope you enjoy the journey.

University of Maryland

The Campus

By virtually every measure of quality, the University of Maryland has gained national recognition as one of the fastest-rising comprehensive research institutions in the country. The momentum of recent years has poised the university to move it into the top ranks of higher education and take leadership in shaping the research university of the 21st century.

The university has enjoyed a decade of momentum in all of the areas that affect quality. The average high school GPA of entering students has zoomed from 3.01 to nearly 3.90, and the average SATs are now more than 1270. The student body is a model of diversity, with minorities making up more than 32 percent of all students, and at least one graduate and undergraduate student from every state in the nation.

The university has 67 graduate and undergraduate programs ranked in the Top 25 by U.S. News and World Report, up from just one program in 1991.

Sponsored research and outreach has nearly tripled in the same 10-year period, exceeding $350 million last year. Private giving also has increased, and the university last year concluded its first campaign by topping its $350 million goal by more than $100 million. Alumni Association membership has been growing at an average rate of 10 percent a year since 1992.

One of the largest research universities in the United States, Fall 2002 enrollment was 25,240 undergraduate and 9,561 graduate students. There are 94 undergraduate programs, 89 master's programs, 70 doctoral programs and one first professional degree program. More than 100 centers and institutes are engaged in research and outreach.

Faculty at the University of Maryland, in all fields of knowledge, are engaged at the highest levels of national and international concern. The university's location near the center of federal policy-making and international political and economic activity enables it to play an active role in research and analysis of public policy.

Maryland is one of 30 public universities in the prestigious 63-member Association of American Universities and the only public institution in the Maryland-D.C. area with membership in the nation's most distinguished honor society, Phi Beta Kappa.

Libraries

Seven libraries make up the University of Maryland library system: McKeldin (main) Library, Architecture Library, Art Library, Engineering and Physical Sciences Library, Hornbake Library, Performing Arts Library and White Memorial (Chemistry) Library.

These libraries constitute the largest university research library institution in the Washington metropolitan area, providing vital resources to researchers, visiting scholars, and businesses throughout the region. The libraries' holdings include more than 2.5 million volumes, 24,000 subscriptions to periodicals and nearly 5 million items available in microfilm format.

Research

Opportunities for conducting research abound at the University of Maryland, College Park, and in the surrounding area, both for faculty to advance their own expertise and bring their insights into the classroom, and for students to begin their exploration of their unique interests with practical experience. On campus, special facilities and a number of organized research centers, bureaus and institutes promote the acquisition and analysis of new knowledge in the arts, sciences and applied fields.

The university's enviable location — just nine miles from downtown Washington, D.C., and approximately 30 miles from both Baltimore and Annapolis — enhances the research of its faculty and students by providing access to some of the finest libraries and research centers in the country.

Service

Programs of public service are central to the overall mission of the university. The philosophy is reflected in the wide array of programs and initiatives that benefit the state's business, agriculture and education communities.

With more than 90 high-technology firms in the three-county area of Montgomery, Prince George's and Frederick counties, the university has found abundant opportunity to extend its business and technology outreach programs to the region. Many of these programs are part of the Engineering Research Center, which operates the Technology Advancement Program and the Maryland Industrial Partnerships, programs designed to provide Maryland entrepreneurs and small businesses with research facilities, technical assistance, administrative support and access to technology that will advance their economic base.

The Institute for Systems Research has formed partnerships with major corporations, including Lockheed Martin, Westinghouse, BF Goodrich, Hughes Aircraft and Dupont to apply advanced systems research to solving industry problems in the fields of communications, manufacturing, controls and robotics.

The university last year opened the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center, with its six state-of-the art performance halls, which has quickly become a center of cultural programming in the Washington metropolitan area. The university also boasts four art galleries and a broad range of public art throughout the beautiful campus. Additionally intercollegiate, club and intramural sports provide students of all levels an opportunity to participate as spectators or athletes.

When C. D. "Dan" Mote Jr. became the 19th president of the University of Maryland on Sept. 1, 1998, he proclaimed it a university "on the move." Five years later, under his guidance, Maryland continues to move – at an ever-accelerating rate – on the field, in the classroom, in the community and in the world.

Leading a great university is a big job, but it's a role that Mote is accustomed to, having spent his entire academic career at the University of California at Berkeley, where he earned all his degrees, chaired one of the nation's top-ranked departments of Mechanical Engineering, and eventually became Vice Chancellor for University Relations before coming to Maryland.

The University of Maryland is the State of Maryland's most important asset, says Mote: "The future of the state depends on this university."

As president, Mote is committed to making that asset even greater by nourishing a culture of excellence and civility across the campus, providing the highest quality education for students, strengthening the university's connections with its various stakeholders, building partnerships with State and national corporations and federal agencies and achieving distinction as an institution where discovery takes place every day and everywhere.

The university's progress can be seen in every area, from its nationally-ranked programs to its growing range of partnerships to its world-class, state-of-the-art facilities.

Quality Programs

Over the past decade, the quality of Maryland's programs has grown by leaps and bounds. In 2003, the University of Maryland moved up to 18th place among public universities in U.S. News & World Report rankings, the first time it has broken into the top 20 in its steady climb to distinction. We currently have 49 graduate and undergraduate programs and units ranked in the top 15 by U.S. News & World Report, up from 5 eight years ago.

While our academic successes have spread across the board, the university has emerged as a true powerhouse in business, computer science, earth sciences, engineering, environmental policy, education and journalism. Maryland is one of only 10 public and private universities that have their programs in computer science, mathematics, physics, and engineering each ranked in the top 20, and the Robert H. Smith School of Business is one of 6 nationally ranked in both the top 10 Business Faculty in Teaching and the top 10 Business Faculty in Research.

Faculty Stature

With the addition during Mote's third year of a Nobel Laureate in Physics and three more Pulitzer Prize winners (to join three already on the faculty), Maryland continues to attract the best faculty available. This past year a faculty member was the recipient of the Japan Prize, an award given by the Japanese government in technology that is equivalent to the Nobel prizes. More than 30 of our faculty are members of the national academies, the highest professional recognition attainable.

Experts on the Maryland faculty are regularly sought by the news media for their views on a wide variety of issues, including political events, international affairs, social trends, economics, the environment, science and technology.

Talented Students

Over the past 10 years, it has become a cliché to announce that each year's new freshman class is the most talented ever. The average GPA of entering students in fall 2003 is 3.9, while the average SAT score is nearly 1,300.

Not surprisingly, the number of students enrolling in honors and other special programs has also skyrocketed in recent years. Our extremely popular living-learning programs, which bring together students with similar academic interests in a residential setting, were ranked 3rd in the country in the latest U.S. News & World Report. In the last academic year, over 6,000 students enrolled in such programs as Gemstone, College Park Scholars, and the Hinman CEO Entrepreneurship Program.

Athletic Excellence

Mote sees athletics as an integral part of the university experience. Indeed athletic success more often than not reflects academic success, he notes. For example, all four of the teams that played in the 2002 NCAA basketball Final Four, including Maryland, are members of the prestigious Association of American Universities, the organization that comprises the leading research and academic universities in North America. "That's no accident," Mote says. "Institutions that are committed to excellence tend to be excellent in every endeavor. Our successes in basketball, lacrosse and other sports reflects our culture of quality as much as our successes in engineering, business, education and journalism."

Deborah A. Yow

Director of Athletics
Elon '74
10th Year at Maryland

Deborah A. Yow is in the tenth year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland, a year that has seen unprecedented success and achievement in Maryland athletics. Each year has brought about continued improvement and accomplishment in Terrapin athletics. In Yow's nine years at Maryland, the Terrapins have won a remarkable nine NCAA national championships as Maryland athletics has soared to new heights.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony of her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability.

Likewise, her election to the presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics three years ago is an indication of the wide respect with which she is regarded among its 6,100 members representing 1,600 colleges in the U.S. and Canada. She was recently singled out by Street and Smith Sports Business Journal as one of the leading administrators in the U.S. and she received the Carl Maddox Sport Management Award presented by the United States Sports Academy for excellence in athletics administration. Yow was selected to serve on the U.S. Department of Education's Commission on Opportunities in Athletics to review the status of Federal Title IX regulations, as well as the chair of the Atlantic Coast Conference Committee on Television for the 2003-04 academic year. The committee, comprised of the ACC's athletics directors, is charged with overseeing the league's TV contracts and dealing with issues related to television. Additionally, in May, she was chosen as one of three recipients of the 2003 Women of the Year award by Women in Sports and Events.

Yow, who recently served on the NCAA Management Council and the NCAA Division I Budget Committee, is a strong and steady voice on behalf of intercollegiate athletics in America. Since taking over as AD at Maryland in 1994, she and her staff have:

- Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsible, goal-oriented organization.
- Balanced all nine of the annual department's budgets (the first balanced budget in the 10 years prior to her arrival). The budget has now reached $42 million annually and the sizable prior accumulated operating debts have been eradicated.
- Greatly enhanced the academic support services provided for student-athletes, with an enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate of approximately 85 percent.
- Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports ranking in the upper 15 percent of all NCAA Division I institutions.
- Significantly expanded marketing and fund-raising efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result, private gifts to athletics have increased 240 percent and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by 275 percent during her tenure at Maryland.
- Continued to dramatically improve venues and facilities for the department's 25 teams.
- Implemented a strategic management model.
- Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fund-raising applications.
- Significantly improved customer care in every area.

The most recent achievements of Maryland athletics are exceptional:

- Selected recently by U.S. News & World Report as one of the Top 20 athletic programs in the nation (for overall quality and competitive excellence).
- In football, won the 2002 Atlantic Coast Conference championship and played in the 2002 Orange Bowl and followed this with an 11-win season and a 30-3 victory over the University of Tennessee in the Peach Bowl in December 2002. This past New Year's Day, they routed West Virginia, 41-7, in the 2004 Gator Bowl. In men's basketball, the Terps advanced to the Sweet 16 in the NCAA Tournament following its second consecutive Final Four and the National Championship in 2002. The Terps are among only a few NCAA institutions to have achieved this level in both these revenue sports in the same year.

Additionally, Maryland is one of only five universities to win a National Championship in both basketball and football (UCLA, Michigan, Michigan State, Ohio State and Maryland).

- Hired the Associated Press National Coach of the Year, Brenda Frese, as the new women's basketball coach.
- Hired Dave Cottle, the third-winningest active men's lacrosse coach in the U.S.
- Field Hockey played for the National Championship in 2001.
- Women's Lacrosse has continued its winning ways and has won seven consecutive national championships through 2001.
- Enhancing football facilities significantly with Team House and practice field upgrades.
- Moved into the new $125 million Comcast Center
- The athletics budget was balanced for the ninth consecutive year.
- In 2002-03, 10 Maryland teams competed in NCAA postseason play.
- The productivity, morale, and the competitive and academic achievement of Terrapin athletics are exceptional and continue to gain momentum.

Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past nine years, Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied… our vision is to be one of the top 10 programs in the nation consistently… we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her to"raise our sights and sharpen our tools… to work hard and smart…to recognize that our only limitations are those that we place upon ourselves."

As a manager and a leader, she clearly models these principles. She is the only known current AD in NCAA Division I who has hired both the National Coach of the Year in football (while at Maryland) and the National Coach of the Year in men's basketball (while at Saint Louis University). Yow is known as "a coach's AD," while also be highly organized, strategic and proactive leader and administrator. Quite simply, Debbie Yow personifies the relational and management dynamics that are necessary to be an excellent administrator.

A successful former coach at the University of Kentucky and University of Florida, she moved into athletics administration at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, followed by a successful tenure as AD at Saint Louis University.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics management and human behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States.

Summing up the entire athletics program, our athletics director recently stated, "We have the finest student-athletes, coaches, support staff and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work and cooperative spirit that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets, our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, and the M Club members who serve and give liberally. We are also blessed with a terrific President Dr. Dan Mote, who has fostered a mindset of excellence across our institution. he is a strong and balanced advocate for what he calls 'the three A's of the University — Academics, the Arts and Athletics'. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all of our success… and the basis for our bright future. It's a great time to be a Terp."

Dave Haglund is in his sixth year on the University of Maryland athletic staff and his first as associate athletics director for varsity sports. He joined the University of Maryland athletic staff in January 1998 following a 16-year career in the sports information office at Fresno State University.

In June, after five-and-one-half years as the associate athletic director for media relations, he took over as associate athletic director for varsity sports and championships coordinator. In his new role, he serves as sports supervisor for a number of varsity programs, including baseball, gymnastics, women's lacrosse, volleyball, track and field, men's golf, softball and cross country. In addition, he will coordinate ACC and NCAA championship events hosted by the university.

A 1981 graduate of Oregon State University, Haglund began his sports information career as an assistant SID at Fresno State in 1981 and was elevated to sports information director in 1996. During the course of his career at Fresno State, he served as the primary contact person for the Bulldogs' football, basketball, baseball and soccer programs. He also served as information director of the California Bowl (1982-83) for two years.

Haglund and his wife, Cindy, are the parents of two children: Samantha (10) and Matthew (7).

Academic Support & Career Dev.

The University of Maryland is committed to providing the highest quality education to all of its students. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide student-athletes excellent opportunities to participate in an intercollegiate athletics program of the highest quality, with the result that their athletics participation becomes an integral and valued component of their total educational experience at the university.

Terrapin student-athletes will find that the same hard work and discipline that has earned them success in athletics competition is also required in the classroom. Balancing the significant time demands and responsibilities required to be a successful student-athlete at the highest collegiate level is no small task. Therefore, as a result of their commitment to representing the university through athletics, Terrapin student-athletes are able to utilize support programs designed to meet their specific needs.

Led by acting associate athletics director Val Sheley, the mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU) is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance academic progress, facilitate career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of all UM student-athletes. Ellen Henderson works with the women's lacrosse team.

The Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin student-athletes, named for long-time Terp supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is located in the Comcast Center. It features a study center that includes 25 desktop computers, a tutoring center, a classroom, a CHAMPS/Life Skills resource room and individual offices for six professional academic counselors, a director of enrichment programs, an assistant program coordinator and two graduate assistants. In addition, a new academic wing was added to the Gossett football team house last Fall. It features offices for two counselors, a program assistant and the learning specialist, as well as a quiet study area, 29-desk computer lab, classroom, tutor rooms and classroom/lab for the individualized learning program.

Academic courses, programs and services offered by ASCDU include the following:

- Student-athlete orientation
- Academic counseling
- NCAA academic eligibility monitoring
- Academic enrichment and career development presentations and workshops
- Accredited tutorial support
- Individualized learning program
- EDCP 108-K (College learning strategies and skills)
- EDCP 108-M (Math learning strategies and skills)
- UNIV 100 (First-year transitions to the university)

Maryland Gameplan

The Maryland Gameplan is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin the job search process. It is distributed to more than 500 corporations and businesses across the country, in addition to being featured on the M Club website. Prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements. The Maryland Gameplan directory is produced annually in collaboration with the M Club.

Career Networking Night

Because career development is an ongoing process, ASCDU provides a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the year. Professional assistance with resume- writing, interviewing skills, graduate school search and job search is readily available to all student-athletes. During the spring semester ASCDU hosts the Career Networking Night, where student-athletes can learn about career interests and career planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen areas of interest. Employers at the Career Networking Night recognize the marketable qualities student-athletes have gained through athletic participation. Student-athletes learn about opportunities for internships and full-time jobs.

Student-Athlete Advisory Council

The Student-Athlete Advisory Council (S.A.A.C.) plays an important role in the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. It consists of two representatives from each varsity sport and meets on a regular basis with representatives from the athletic administration. The S.A.A.C. mission is to enhance the total student-athlete experience by developing leadership skills, promoting student-athlete welfare and fostering a positive student-athlete image on the Maryland campus, local area and nationally.

CHAMPS/Life Skills Programs

ASCDU houses the NCAA's (National Collegiate Athletic Association) Challenging Athletes' Minds for Personal Success (C.H.A.M.P.S.) Life Skills Program. The ASCDU staff, in collaboration with various other Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' units and campus resources, strives to provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual academically, athletically and emotionally, and on the changing needs and skills of that individual in the years during college and after graduation. The menu of presentations, workshops and seminars is a comprehensive and balanced system of "life learning" programs promoted for use by each varsity sport team.

Highlights of the CHAMPS/Life Skills Programs:

- Support efforts of every student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation
- Use athletics as preparation for success in life
- Meet the changing needs of student-athletes
- Promote respect for diversity among student-athletes
- Enhance interpersonal relationships in the lives of student-athletes
- Assist student-athletes in building positive self-esteem
- Enable student-athletes to make meaningful contributions to their communities
- Promote ownership by the student-athletes of their academic, athletic, personal and social responsibilities
- Enhance partnerships between the NCAA, member institutions and their communities for the purpose of education
- Encourage the development of leadership skills

CHAMPS/Life Skills Programs Commitment Statements

Commitment to Academic Excellence To support the academic progress of the student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation.

Commitment to Athletic Excellence To build philosophical foundations for the development of athletic programs that are broad-based, equitable and dedicated to the well-being of the student-athlete.

Commitment to Personal Development To support the development of a well-balanced lifestyle for student-athletes, encouraging emotional well-being, personal growth and decision-making skills.

Commitment to Career Development To encourage the student-athlete to develop and pursue career and life goals.

Commitment to Service To engage student-athletes in service to his/her campus and surrounding communities.

Academic Support For Returning Athletes Program

The Academic Support for Returning Athletes Program was created in 1986 to support the academic efforts of former varsity student-athletes at the University of Maryland, College Park. In 1989, ASRAP was assigned by the President's Office to the Academic Achievements Program and enrolled 40 students that year. As a member of the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS), the University of Maryland is committed to assisting its former athletes with degree completion. A key component of the program is community outreach. Each returning student completes a "workship" that allows the cost of tuition and fees to be exchanged for community services with youth. In 2002, ASRAP moved into the ASCDU.

Strength & Conditioning

Collegiate lacrosse has evolved to the point where total physical preparation is necessary to successfully compete on the Division I level. It has become extremely important to strength and conditioning coach Barry Kagan (right) that all of the Terrapin athletes are prepared through training to maximize their athletic development in terms of strength and conditioning. The high level of dedication by the members of the lacrosse team has brought about spectacular achievements in the weight room and in competition.

The objective of the strength and conditioning program for lacrosse is based on the enhancement of performance as well as the prevention of injuries. Fitzgerald makes every attempt to accommodate the different training needs of each individual athlete.

The preparation of a student-athlete to compete in lacrosse goes beyond strength and power training in the weight room. Speed improvement, flexibility, plyometrics, nutrition, agility and conditioning are also important ingredients in the preparation of the lacrosse team here at Maryland. The strength and conditioning staff puts a great emphasis on improving the quickness of the Terps through increased mechanical efficiency and the improvement of acceleration of maximum velocity.
